

WORLD MISSION SUNDAY - October 18, 2020

Liturgy Suggestions

General Considerations

- World Mission Sunday, organized by the Pontifical Society for the Propagation of the Faith, is a day set aside for Catholics worldwide to recommit themselves to the Church's missionary activity through sharing prayer, learning and offering financial support to mission dioceses around the world.
- Funds collected on World Mission Sunday go towards supporting the pastoral, catechetical, charitable and evangelizing work of the Church in over 1,100 dioceses overseas and 80 locally.
- The theme for 2020 World Mission Sunday is "Here I am. Send me!" highlighting our call to serve, encourage, support and prayer for the missionary life of the Church.
- Highlights from Pope Francis' message are enclosed.
- Each parish should collect appeal funds and send one check to the Center for Mission, 777 Forest Street, St. Paul, MN 55106. Funds collected in the archdiocese are then forwarded to the national office of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith.
- The environment can add a lot to our liturgies. Please consider how you might enhance the worship space on World Mission Sunday to more fully reflect the universal nature of Catholic mission. Some ideas include displaying cultural cloths, devotional figures or sacred art pieces from different parts of the world.

Scriptural Theme Reflections – 29th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Tell God's glory among the nations; among all peoples" (Psalm 96:3).

The readings invite us to consider how God's saving presence is meant for all people. God chooses Jew and Gentile alike to announce this good news among all the nations. In the first reading (Is.45:1, 4-6) Cyrus, the King of Persia, is called the anointed one because he will further God's plan to liberate Israel from exile. God would be "opening doors before him" (Is. 45:1). In the second reading (I Thes. 1:1-5) Paul praises and encourages the young Thessalonian Church for their missionary efforts. He reminds them of God's gracious election upon them to receive the Gospel in word and in power and in the Holy Spirit. Paul reminds them that they have been chosen to bear the "work of faith and labor of love and endurance of hope of our Lord Jesus Christ." In the Gospel reading (Matt. 22:15-21), the Pharisees and Herodians conspire to trap Jesus by putting him in a no-win position regarding his allegiance. Jesus responds, "Give to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and give to God what belongs to God." What belongs to God? If God is the source of all life, then ultimately all we have and all we are comes as a gift from God.

God is still calling people to follow him and share in his mission to the ends of the earth. Mission is at the heart of Christian faith. We are each baptized into Christ's mission to bring light into the world. On World Mission Sunday, we renew and celebrate our call as missionary disciples. We join with Catholics around the world to support the missionary church wherever it is being planted and taking root. We are especially reminded during this time of Covid-19 that we are in the same boat with all people facing up to our frailty and uncertainty. Christ is still calling us to step out in faith to follow him and let our light shine in remote and distant lands. Like the prophets and apostles chosen to bring good news to the poor and liberty to captives, God is still calling, "Whom shall I send?" May we respond, "Here I am... Send me!"

God shows no partiality and intends that all may experience his saving presence. As St. Paul knew so personally, it is through God's grace and mercy that we are chosen to receive the Gospel of Christ and sent by the Holy Spirit to be ambassadors of God's wondrous deeds.

CENTER for MISSION

Society for the Propagation of the Faith / St. Paul and Minneapolis

The question we need to ask ourselves is, will we allow ourselves to be chosen? How will we support the Church's mission especially where the Church is small, young, marginalized or persecuted for faith? Will we accept the invitation to join in God's mission to work for faith, labor for love and give reason for hope? During this celebration of World Mission Sunday, we are invited to renew our baptismal call to communion and mission. May we shine like lights in the world as we witness to the word of life.

World Mission Sunday Collection

Today, in every parish around the world, a collection is being taken up for Catholic missions in over 1,100 overseas dioceses and this year, due to the pandemic, we include 80 dioceses in the U.S. Your contribution today will go towards helping teachers and catechists to teach the faith in urban centers and remote villages. You will help to build churches and chapels in mission stations for people to worship, hear God's word and receive sacraments. You will help in the effort to raise up and train new leaders who will minister to people in their own language. You will provide material support to the poor and suffering lifting up individual dignity through the love of Christ.

Your financial gift will go to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, which is the official worldwide Catholic network of mission cooperation enabling the Gospel of Jesus Christ to reach to the ends of the earth and Catholic Home Missions. Thank you for joining in this central work of the Church!

Liturgy of the Eucharist

To highlight the missionary intention of World Mission Sunday, it is most appropriate to celebrate the Mass for the Spread of the Gospel (Sacramental Masses and Prayers for Various Needs and Occasions, #14). "This Mass may be celebrated whenever there are special celebrations for the missions, even on Sundays of Ordinary Time" (Roman Sacramentary).

It is also suggested to use Eucharistic Prayer III because of its explicit references to the universality of salvation, Church and mission.
