Taking Action

Here's something you can do now!

Let Minnesota government hear from Catholics. All of Minnesota State Government, including the Health Department (MDH), the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA), the Department of Commerce, and more, are writing a Climate Action Framework identifying the climate action we need to take. It covers six different areas:

      Clean Transportation
      Clean Energy and Buildings
      Agriculture
      Healthy Communities and Climate Equity
      Resilient Communities
      Clean Economy

You can read the draft at (https://climate.state.mn.us/minnesotas-climate-action-framework).

Email climate.mn@state.mn.us to share the importance of writing a strong Climate Action Framework for the state of Minnesota. This current draft does not meet the targets from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), the leading world body for the assessment of climate change. In your email, share a story about why the environment is important to you and use the language, "Please respect the wisdom of the world's scientists and build a Climate Action Framework in line with the IPCC Standards" somewhere in your letter. Catholic teaching calls us to be in dialogue with those seeking solutions to climate change and the Vatican supports the work of the IPCC.
